

Connecting Steps

This project will reach people who are not currently accessing the countryside by working with existing community groups which work with vulnerable or isolated people.

The project will provide help and support to these groups to include countryside-based activities in the programmes they offer to their members / beneficiaries.

Photo: Wild at Heart members visiting Stoneface Creative, SRWT