

Working with water

Natural flood management (NFM), water quality improvement, habitat management and species conservation can go hand in hand.

This project aims to demonstrate NFM in the field. We have identified 13 important small sites with local farmers and landowners for habitat interventions which will address water quality and flood risk issues.

Photo: Pond at Whitwell Moor, N. Abbas